Food Rationing May Return

HOOVER REPORTS TO PRESIDENT ON FOOD SCENE

Bowles Studying Rationing In Effort To Help Give Others Some Food

WASHINGTON, May 13—Former President Herbert Hoover today reported personally to President Truman on his globe-circling tour of the world famine areas.

The 71-year-old ex-president's moon conference at the White House came amid fresh talk of eventual food rationing in the United States.

And it may launch a week of historic decisions on what the English-speaking nations will do to meet the present food crisis and the threat of another emergency just as serious next winter.

Herbert Morrison president of Britain's cabinet council, planned to meet with the President immediately after Mr. Hoover.

Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles was revealed to be thinking about recommending a resumption of food rationing in the United States. A decision on the problem, however, probably will not come until August or September after the summer harvest is in, food officials said.

A spokesman for Bowles' office reported the economic stabilizer feels the American people will favor food rationing "if we fail otherwise to meet our commitments to starving peoples abroad."

Although Mr. Truman and other high officials consistently have opposed consumer rationing on grounds it would not help in the present emergency, they might look upon it more favorably as part of a campaign against starvation next year.

Mr. Truman already was confronted with a demand from 100 prominent Americans that food rationing be restored so this country can double its exports during the next six weeks. It said this would mean the difference between life and death to millions overseas.

The group, headed by former UNRRA Director Herbert H. Lehman, urged Americans to give up wheat products, cake, pastries and canned meat and fish temporarily. It said they should substitute potatoes for wheat and chicken, turkey, eggs and fresh and frozen fish for meat.

Otherwise, it said, "we in America will not have done half as much as we could have done and millions will die or be blighted for life because of our failure."

Morrison said he was here merely to discuss the general food situation, but it was believed he carried a plea for this country to pull in its belt even further to divert food to hungry nations.

Morrison said upon his arrival yesterday that the United States and Britain were in grave danger of losing the causes for which they fought unless they can meet the great of famine.

He said bluntly the battle was going against us and that unless the tide soon were turned, "famine soon will be killing civilians" (Continued on Page Two)

Lafollette Would Speed Up Congress

WASHINGTON, May 13—Sen. Robert M. Lafollette, Prog., Wis., today introduces a bill to compel congress to reorganize for greater efficiency.

Lafollette headed the joint senate-house committee which held hearings on congressional reorganization proposals for almost two years. His bill embodies most of the committee recommendations and would:

1. Reduce the number of senate committees from 33 to 16, and limit senators to membership on only one or two committees.
2. Raise congressional salaries from $10,000 to $15,000 a year, and provide congressional participation in the civil service retirement system.
3. Provide more adequate staffing of committees.
4. Establish official Democratic and Republican policy committees which would decide the party's official attitude on major issues.
5. Grant each senator an $8,000-a-year administrative assistant.
6. Establish machinery for continual congressional review of independent agencies and commissions.

EMPEROR URGED TO FEED HUNGRY

Communists Demand Imperial Jap Household Release 'Stored Foodstocks'

TOKYO, May 13—Japanese Communists today demanded that Emperor Hirohito and the imperial family release "stored foodstocks" for distribution to the starving Japanese people.

The Communists directed a public statement to Hirohito a day after a crowd of 100 demonstrators staged an unprecedented invasion of the imperial palace to demand food.

The demonstrators claimed they represented more than 1,000 residents of the Setagaya district in Tokyo. They forced their way past palace guards and held a rally in front of the imperial household department household office.

While guards tried to disperse the demonstrators on grounds red flags and singing were "unacceptable" inside the palace grounds, an imperial household department official appeared and told the crowd, "I shall hear your views here."

Shouting, "don't insult us by trying to turn us away at the gate," the demonstrators forced their way into the imperial household department office where officials appeared and told the crowd, "I shall hear your views here."

Morrison said upon his arrival yesterday that the United States and Britain were in grave danger of losing the causes for which they fought unless they can meet the great of famine.

He said bluntly the battle was going against us and that unless the tide soon were turned, "famine soon will be killing civilians" (Continued on Page Two)

UN COMMITTEE TO HEAR CHARGE AGAINST FRANCO

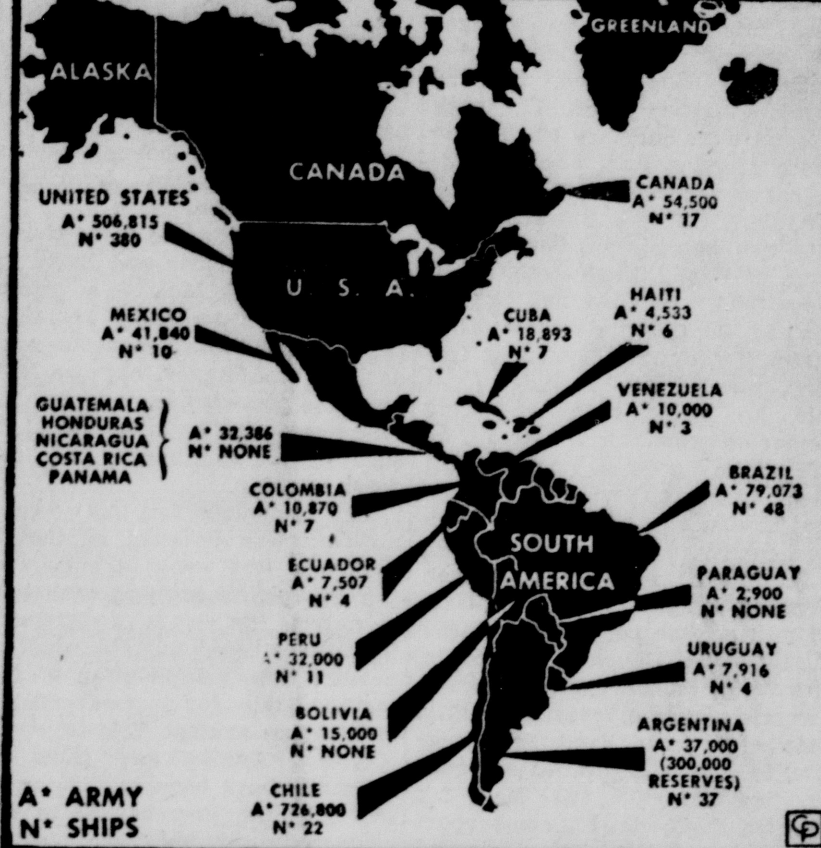

NEW YORK, May 13—A report charging that the Franco regime in Spain is a threat to world peace will be presented to a five-nation subcommittee of the United Nations security council at a closed session today.

The paper, a 300-page document allegedly containing evidence of atomic research in Spain and reports of Spanish troop movements on the French border, will be presented by Dr. Jose Giral Y. Perera, premier of the Spanish Republic government in exile.

Giral arrived by plane from Paris yesterday. He refused to make any statement on the charges against Franco, explaining that he would present his report personally to the subcommittee headed by Paul Hasluck, Australian delegate to the security council.

However, it was understood that Giral would not be permitted to give oral testimony at the session. If the subcommittee should permit him to testify, it was believed his statements would be made at an open session.

PLAN FOR DEFENSE OF AMERICAS

WHEN PRESIDENT TRUMAN, in a message to Congress, outlined a new program of inter-American military collaboration, he proposed that the United States standardize hemisphere defenses as well as the training and equipping of armed forces in the Americas. The military and naval strength of these American states, as shown above, is based on figures made public before the outbreak of World War II. With the Rio de Janeiro conference scheduled for September, it is the aim of the President to have advance approval of Congress before the U. S. and Latin American republics begin to draw up a mutual defense treaty. It is pointed out that a defense treaty without proper military and naval equipment to enforce it would have no meaning. On map, "A" refers to the Army while "N" indicates only large warships. (International)

Planes Flying Faster Than Sound Seen Soon

LANGLEY FIELD, Va., May 13—Within seven months planes built to exceed the speed of sound—750 miles an hour—probably will be flown experimentally.

Well-informed sources made the disclosure during the first public inspection of the national advisory committee for aeronautics laboratories since the war started.

They told the United Press at least two manufacturers, who can not be named, are working on the project under military contract. The only official comment from NACA, which will conduct the experiments, was that such planes are in the advanced design stage.

Manufacturers, airline operators, and Army and Navy officials came here from all over the country to inspect the NACA's vast system of laboratories, high-speed wind tunnels and seaplane testing basins. Officials of the government aeronautical research agency, which reports directly to President Truman, said considerable advance has been made in attacking the problem of supersonic (faster than sound) speed since the aviation war.

SOLDIERS UNDER SUSPICION IN DOUBLE MURDER

NUERNBERG, May 13—Military sources said today that the shots which killed two U. S. soldiers near a Nuernberg park last Friday night were believed to have been fired from an American carbine.

Criminal investigation agents were concentrating their investigation of the double murder on American soldiers billeted in the area where the two Stars and Stripes staff members were shot. The victims were identified as T/4 Paul R. Skelton and S/Sgt. William Timmons. Their home town addresses were not listed here.

Capt. Claud Nichols of Wichita, Kan., the CID's top ballistic expert in the theater, flew to Nuernberg today to examine the evidence.

As the house took up a senate-approved bill for a 45-day extension, House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack, Mass., predicted a hot fight lasting probably all day.

Although the house passed a modified extension bill a month ago, the explosive issue was thrown back in its lap again by the senate which passed its stop-gap extension in order to have more time to consider the house bill.

The house-approved measure would extend the act for nine months but prohibit inductions from Wednesday until Oct. 15 while the armed forces tried voluntary recruiting. It also would bar induction of teenagers and fathers.

The senate version would extend the act from Wednesday midnight until July 1.

House members indignant over senate failure to act on the house bill, planned a variety of amendments.

Rep. Dewey Short, R., Mo., was "thinking about" offering the original house bill as a substitute for the senate measure to "send the hot potato right back to them."

BIG 4 NEARING SHOWDOWN ON TRIESTE ISSUE

No Sign Of Compromise On Port At Conference; Meetings Resume

PARIS, May 13—The big four talks on Europe entered their most critical stage today with a final showdown on Trieste imminent.

Negotiations on Trieste seemed likely to decide the success or failure of the entire conference, and will determine whether a peace conference will be possible this summer.

The dispute over the Adriatic port has stuck out like a sore thumb through all the conferences in which the foreign ministers were able to reach tentative compromises on other phases of the Italian treaty. There was not the slightest sign of compromise on Trieste.

Emphasizing the serious stage of negotiations, Ernest Bevin made an unexpected Sunday flight to London, where he held a long conference with Premier Attlee. He returned to Paris today.

There appeared little hope of agreement on Trieste unless Russia (Continued on Page Two)

As a consequence of the two-week truce in the 42-day-old bituminous coal strike parcel post and express shipments were restored to normal Monday in Circleville. Postmaster A. ### 22 Arraigned In Court; 14 Enter Guilty Pleas

Kay Chaffin, 60, Walnut Creek pike, accused of arson in connection with the Easter Sunday fire in his rented home, will likely be given a mental examination in the Columbus State hospital.

This was indicated Monday when his attorney filed a motion for such action after a not guilty plea had been entered for Chaffin before Judge Emmitt L. Crist in Pickaway county common pleas court.

Twenty one other indictments were arraigned Monday before Judge Crist.

Joseph Raymond Whaley, 25, ex-Navy man employed in a Circleville plant, pleaded guilty to a bigamy indictment and threw himself upon the mercy of the court. He was charged with having married Miss Geraldine Doyle at Washington, C. H., in July, 1945, without having obtained a divorce from his wife in Queensland, Australia. Whaley's attorney pleaded extenuating circumstances. County Prosecutor Kenneth M. Robbins announced he would recommend leniency if Whaley would support a child in Australia. The prosecutor said that Whaley is suffering from what is known in military channels as "jungle rot."

Judge Crist deferred imposition of sentence for a period of five years.

PICKETS, POLICE STAGE BATTLE IN CONNECTICUT

WEST HARTFORD, Conn., May 13—Several thousand pickets clashed with police today at the Pratt & Whitney division of Niles-Bement-Pond company, and bitter fighting prevailed until an emergency call brought about 100 state troopers to the scene.

SOME MINERS DEFY ORDER

More Than 50,000 Still Idle In Pennsylvania; Freight Is Moving Again

By United Press
Coal miners returned to the nation's soft coal fields today to relieve sorely-pressed utilities and industries, but the refusal of some miners in Pennsylvania to go back to the pits clouded the two-week strike truce.

More than half of Pennsylvania's 100,000 miners failed to return to work today, and coal production was less than 50 per cent of capacity in the Pittsburgh district and less than 25 per cent in Altoona.

In general, others of the 400,000 striking United Mine Workers (AFL) returned to the pits to begin the two-week moratorium called by their president, John L. Lewis.

But their return was too late to avoid the general closing of Ford Motor Company plants where 110,000 eventually will be affected. Chrysler also laid off 10,000 workers because of a parts shortage.

Another 10,000 were laid off at the Briggs body plant and Packard faced a possible shutdown if Briggs is unable to supply needed parts.

At Washington, federal mediators continued pressure for a final settlement of the coal dispute, but there was no indication of progress in negotiations between the union and the mine operators. Neither was there any inkling of whether a contract could be written by Wednesday as President Truman had asked.

Railroads resumed hauling sorely needed materials to industrial plants as the freight embargo was lifted. Factories which had closed because of supply shortages resulting from the embargo re-opened, but for the most part plants which closed because of lack of coal remained closed.

Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., largest subsidiary of U. S. Steel, planned to operate on only 12 per cent of capacity during the first week of the truce. U. S. steel officials estimated that the coal strike had resulted in a loss of 800,000 tons of steel in the Pittsburgh-Youngstown region.

The magazine "Steel" said it would require more than a month to get steel production back into (Continued on Page Two)

50 MAUTHAUSEN CAMP WORKERS WILL BE HANGED

DACHAU, May 13—An American military tribunal today sentenced 58 Mauthausen concentration camp workers to be hanged for atrocities. Three other defendants convicted Saturday were given life imprisonment.

Maj. Gen. Gay B. Prickett, head of the seven-man tribunal, announced the sentences of the 61 defendants, reading the verdicts first English and then in German. Two of those given death sentences had to be helped from the courtroom.

Most of the defendants snapped to attention to hear their fate. August Eiglbauer, gauleiter of upper Austria, where Mauthausen was located, wore a gay Bavarian costume when he was sentenced to death.

Prickett said it was impossible for anyone who worked at the concentration camp to have escaped knowledge of the criminal practices enforced there.

Sentences must be reviewed by the U. S. Third army and Gen. Joseph McNarney before they are carried out. The trial lasted six weeks and two days.

TOKYO, May 13—Dr. Ichiro Kiyose, chief counsel for former Premier Hideki Tojo and 26 other suspected war criminals, asserted today that the Japanese people do not have to obey every order issued by Supreme Commander Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

His statement came during a general attack on the jurisdiction of the international military tribunal trying the defendants and drew an angry retort from chief prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan.

"I suggest to the tribunal that we have heard discourse from this counsel that is very close to sedition," Keenan declared.

Shaking a pair of black-rimmed glasses and pounding on a table to emphasize his points, Kiyose based his argument on the point that Japan had signed a conditional surrender.

ZANESVILLE, O., May 13—Safecrackers, who used meat cleavers on at least one job, today were sought by police in the Muskingum-Licking-Coshocton county area for three weekend robberies that netted more than $7,500.

The safecrackers used the cleavers to break into the safe at the O. J. Buser general store at West Lafayette early Saturday and escaped with $1,600 in cash and $3,000 in government bonds.

Second on their list was the Callender Dry Cleaning plant at Newark where they obtained $1,000.

At Zanesville, police said the McHenry Shoe Store had its safe broken into and more than $1,000 was taken early today.

At Washington, federal mediators continued pressure for a final settlement of the coal dispute, but there was no indication of progress in negotiations between the union and the mine operators. Neither was there any inkling of whether a contract could be written by Wednesday as President Truman had asked.

Railroads resumed hauling sorely needed materials to industrial plants as the freight embargo was lifted. Factories which had closed because of supply shortages resulting from the embargo re-opened, but for the most part plants which closed because of lack of coal remained closed.

Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., largest subsidiary of U. S. Steel, planned to operate on only 12 per cent of capacity during the first week of the truce. U. S. steel officials estimated that the coal strike had resulted in a loss of 800,000 tons of steel in the Pittsburgh-Youngstown region.

The magazine "Steel" said it would require more than a month to get steel production back into (Continued on Page Two)

50 MAUTHAUSEN CAMP WORKERS WILL BE HANGED

DACHAU, May 13—An American military tribunal today sentenced 58 Mauthausen concentration camp workers to be hanged for atrocities. Three other defendants convicted Saturday were given life imprisonment.

Maj. Gen. Gay B. Prickett, head of the seven-man tribunal, announced the sentences of the 61 defendants, reading the verdicts first English and then in German. Two of those given death sentences had to be helped from the courtroom.

Most of the defendants snapped to attention to hear their fate. August Eigruber, gauleiter of upper Austria, where Mauthausen was located, wore a gay Bavarian costume when he was sentenced to death.

Prickett said it was impossible for anyone who worked at the concentration camp to have escaped knowledge of the criminal practices enforced there.

Sentences must be reviewed by the U. S. Third army and Gen. Joseph McNarney before they are carried out. The trial lasted six weeks and two days.

full swing and build up depleted coal stocks.

The solid fuels administration gave first priority to coal mined under the truce to public utilities, railroads, hospitals, food processing plants, refrigeration plants and laundries. Industrial users were given second priority, but may order coal to meet their needs only to May 31.

The senate, aroused by the paralyzing effects of the coal strike, prepared to take up anti-strike legislation this week. A group of senators was scheduled to meet in the office of Sen. Allen J. Ellender for an amendment to ban strikes in public utilities whose rates are fixed by the government.

Unemployment and part time employment during the height of the coal crisis had reached about 2,000,000, but workers across the country in coal-related industries were returning to full employment as the truce began.

The threat of a nationwide railroad strike May 18 still stood. With a temporary solution of the coal crisis effected, observers were awaiting some indication from President Truman on whether he would seize the railroads. The strike date was set by engineers and trainmen of major roads.

Other labor developments were brighter. Seventy-five thousand Westinghouse electric employees began returning to their jobs with settlement of a 119-day strike. The CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine workers said the back-to-work movement was ordered after 28 local unions throughout the country had approved an agreement calling for an 18-1/2 cent hourly pay raise.

At San Francisco, delegates representing about 250,000 shipboard and waterfront workers adjourned a conference after voting to strike June 15. The delegates also formed a "committee for maritime unity" comprising seven CIO shipping industry unions. The strike would affect ports on the east and west coasts and the gulf.

At Cleveland, the longest major strike in the city's history ended with settlement of a 173-day walk-out as the Fisher body plant of General Motors. A compromise settlement calling for an 18-1/2 cent hourly increase plus certain incentive earnings was ratified unanimously by 1,500 striking members of the CIO United Automobile workers. About 7,000 other employees made idle by the strike also began returning to work.

At Los Angeles, striking streetcar and bus drivers awaited an answer to their request to Gov. Earl Warren of California for intervention in their 10-day transit strike, which has deprived 1,000,000 riders of public transportation.

NEW CONFERENCE ON AZERBAIJAN TROUBLE STARTS

TEHRAN, May 13—Premier Ahmad Ghavam and Jaafar Pishavari, head of the self-proclaimed Azerbaijan regime, sought a peaceful settlement in renewed talks today, apparently averting civil strife in the province by a slim margin.

Pishavari suddenly requested a resumption of negotiations yesterday, after making all plans to return empty handed to Tabriz. When Ghavam agreed, Pishavari withdrew demands which had blocked earlier efforts at a settlement.

Even as the talks were resumed, the Tabriz radio broadcast inflammatory statements promising to oppose the central government "bayonet for bayonet." It said 5,000,000 Azerbaijanis were ready to spill their last drop of blood if a struggle ensued.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 13—Little Carol and Susan Hulse, Siamese twins born Tuesday to Mrs. Mary Hulse of Deep River, Wash., were given a 60 per cent chance to live today despite the great odds against their survival at birth.

Attendants at Portland general hospital reported a definite improvement in the girls' condition and said they have progressed steadily since Friday.

The babies, joined together at the base of their spines, have a common circulatory system which prevents their separation by an operation.

The trouble spot still is the transonic speed range. This is the intermediate zone between subsonic speeds, to which aircraft have been confined since their invention, and supersonic speeds.

In the transonic range, conventional planes would encounter so much vibration that they might be torn apart. This happens because pressure impulses travel in the air at the speed of sound and when an aircraft begins to exceed the speed of these impulses, the air can't get out of its way in orderly fashion. Terrific vibrations set in.

The supersonic plane which will be tested by the end of this year, authorities said, is designed to lick the problem of vibration in the transonic speed range. As now being built, this plane will have wings which, in relation to the fuselage, are only about half the span of conventional planes.

NAVY PLANNING OCEAN BATTLE

Some 50 per cent of the men aboard 29 ships in the maneuvers did not engage in combat during the war. Many entered the Navy since V-J day.

Mitscher was commanding the task force with the same battle tactics employed in the Pacific when he directed the Navy's famed task force 58.

The American Navy, Mitscher told reporters covering maneuvers is at least 10 years ahead of any other nation in tonnage, all-round strength and mobility.

Fast carrier task forces which can be supplied at sea, Mitscher added, have largely negated the need for construction of costly bases such as Pearl Harbor. He listed the "sea-keeping" ability of the Navy's heavy units as one of the main reasons the Japanese frequently were caught off base in the Pacific.

As the fighting ships moved toward Culebra island, anti-aircraft gunners were scheduled to blaze away at drone planes controlled by radio. Planes will engage in mock bombing, strafing and rocket attacks.

The task force's maneuvers are intended to restore wartime combat efficiency that has been lost through separations of Navy personnel since the war ended. They are the first large scale post-war training operations in the Atlantic since V-J day.

HOME BUILDING HELD UP BY LACK OF MATERIALS

WASHINGTON, May 13—The National Association of Home Builders said today that 15 items of building materials are so scarce that success of the government's housing program for veterans is threatened.

The home builders said supplies of the 15 building materials are "totally inadequate" for present housing needs. In several cases, they said, "adequate" prices would remedy the shortage.

The scarce materials listed were asphalt shingles, insulation board, clay sewer pipe, soil pipe, gypsum wall board and lath, hardwood flooring, warm air furnaces, pipe and fittings, bathtubs, pine and fir doors, mill work and softwood lumber and plywood.

Joseph Meyerhoff, Baltimore, president of the association, told the opening session private builders have started construction of 171,000 dwelling units since Jan. 1. Completion of these units, he said, is being seriously retarded by the building materials shortages.

IRA MARCHES AT FUNERAL OF HUNGER STRIKER

BELFAST, May 13—The outlawed Irish Republican army marched in Belfast again today, this time in the funeral procession of its adjutant general who starved himself to death as an IRA "martyr."

For three tense hours, 400 members of the IRA moved with measured military tread through the heavily guarded streets of Belfast, escorting the body of Sean McCaughy.

McCaughy died Saturday in Maryborough prison in Eire. He had been on a hunger strike 23 days in an effort to win consideration of a plea that IRA men be classified as political rather than criminal prisoners.

From Holy Cross church, where mass was said, along the four-mile course to Milltown cemetery, the funeral cortege moved over a carefully designated route away from unionist areas, where authorities feared anti-IRA sentiment might burst into violence.

LOW OF 12 IS REPORTED DURING NEW COLD WAVE

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 13—Frost damaged orchards and gardens in Minnesota and North Dakota in a weekend cold snap, department of agriculture officials said today.

Snow blanketed the rich Red river valley wheat fields, but wheat, flax and other small grains were not damaged, officials reported. Wheat farmers said moisture from rain and snow outweighed damage to produce.

Temperatures during the week-end dropped to 12 degrees above zero at Jamestown, N. D., and were below freezing generally throughout northern Minnesota.

and turning out future Fascists more quickly than Hitler and Mussolini ever managed to."

Diplomatic sources said Morrison's statement underscored the fact there would be real danger that hunger, unless checked, would provide a springboard of Fascist ideologies next year.

Mr. Hoover's 56-day flying survey took him to 27 countries, including critical starvation areas in Poland, Austria, Italy, Greece and India.

Other food developments:
1. The agriculture department, forced to choose between grain for livestock and grain for humans, cut back its Fall pig goals 10 per cent. This means less pork and lard for Americans next year.

2. New grain ceiling prices announced by the government to reduce livestock feeding and step up grain exports became effective today.

3. UNRRA announced a team of specialists had been sent to Sardinia to help officials fight the worst locust plague in history. It said a wave of locusts "four layers deep, two-and-a-half miles wide and 30 miles long" was moving on Sardinia's richest crops.

4. UNRRA said engineers aided by 100,000 laborers were trying to mend a mile-long break in China's Yellow river dikes to restore 2,000,000 of China's most fertile acres to production. The Chinese diverted the river to stop the Japanese in 1938.

5. Lord Wavell, viceroy of India, protested the transfer to "enemy countries" of food grains needed in India.

NAVY PLANNING OCEAN BATTLE

Some 50 per cent of the men aboard 29 ships in the maneuvers did not engage in combat during the war. Many entered the Navy since V-J day.

Mitscher was commanding the task force with the same battle tactics employed in the Pacific when he directed the Navy's famed task force 58.

The American Navy, Mitscher told reporters covering maneuvers is at least 10 years ahead of any other nation in tonnage, all-round strength and mobility.

Fast carrier task forces which can be supplied at sea, Mitscher added, have largely negated the need for construction of costly bases such as Pearl Harbor. He listed the "sea-keeping" ability of the Navy's heavy units as one of the main reasons the Japanese frequently were caught off base in the Pacific.

As the fighting ships moved toward Culebra island, anti-aircraft gunners were scheduled to blaze away at drone planes controlled by radio. Drone planes in mock bombing, strafing and rocket attacks.

The task force's maneuvers are intended to restore wartime combat efficiency that has been lost through separations of Navy personnel since the war ended. They are the first large scale post-war training operations in the Atlantic since V-J day.

HOME BUILDING HELDUP BY LACK OF MATERIALS

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The National Association of Home Builders said today that 15 items of building materials are so scarce that success of the government's housing program for veterans is threatened.

The home builders said supplies of the 15 building materials are "totally inadequate" for present housing needs. In several cases, they said, "adequate" prices would remedy the shortage.

The scarce materials listed were asphalt shingles, insulation board, clay sewer pipe, soil pipe, gypsum wall board and lath, hardwood flooring, warm air furnaces, pipe and fittings, bathtubs, pine and fir doors, mill work and softwood lumber and plywood.

Joseph Meyerhoff, Baltimore, president of the association, told the opening session private builders have started construction of 171,000 dwelling units since Jan. 1. Completion of these units, he said, is being seriously retarded by the building materials shortages.

IRA MARCHES AT FUNERAL OF HUNGER STRIKER

BELFAST, May 13.—The outlawed Irish Republican army marched in Belfast again today, this time in the funeral procession of its adjutant general who starved himself to death as an IRA "martyr."

For three tense hours, 400 members of the IRA moved with measured military tread through the heavily guarded streets of Belfast, escorting the body of Sean McCaughy.

McCaughy died Saturday in Maryborough prison in Eire. He had been on a hunger strike 23 days in an effort to win consideration of a plea that IRA men be classified as political rather than criminal prisoners.

From Holy Cross church, where mass was said, along the four-mile course to Milltown cemetery, the funeral cortege moved over a carefully designated route away from unionist areas, where authorities feared anti-IRA sentiment might burst into violence.

LOW OF 12 IS REPORTED DURING NEW COLD WAVE

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 13.—Frost damaged orchards and gardens in Minnesota and North Dakota in a weekend cold snap, department of agriculture officials said today.

Snow blanketed the rich Red river valley wheat fields, but wheat, flax and other small grains were not damaged, officials reported. Wheat farmers said moisture from rain and snow outweighed damage to produce.

Temperatures during the week-end dropped to 12 degrees above zero at Jamestown, N. D., and were below freezing generally throughout northern Minnesota.

MARINES IN MANCHURIA?

MOSCOW, May 13.—A Soviet Tass agency dispatch from Dairen reported today that it was reported that about 2,000 American Marines landed May 1 and 2 at the Manchurian port of Hulutao to assist in moving Nationalist troops into Manchuria.

and turning out future Fascists more quickly than Hitler and Mussolini ever managed to."

Diplomatic sources said Morrison's statement underscored the fact there would be real danger that hunger, unless checked, would provide a springboard for Fascist ideologies next year.

Mr. Hoover's 56-day flying survey took him to 27 countries, including critical starvation areas in Poland, Austria, Italy, Greece and India.

Other food developments:

1. The agriculture department, forced to choose between grain for livestock and grain for humans, cut back its fall pig goals 10 per cent. This means less pork and lard for Americans next year.

2. New grain ceiling prices announced by the government to reduce livestock feeding and step up grain exports became effective today.

3. UNRRA announced a team of specialists had been sent to Sardinia to help officials fight the worst locust plague in history. It said a wave of locusts "four layers deep, two-and-a-half miles wide and 30 miles long" was moving on Sardinia's richest crops.

4. UNRRA said engineers aided by 100,000 laborers were trying to mend a mile-long break in China's Yellow river dikes to restore 2,000,000 of China's most fertile acres to production. The Chinese diverted the river to stop the Japanese in 1938.

5. Lord Wavell, viceroy of India, protested the transfer to "enemy countries" of food grains needed in India.

BIG 4 NEARING SHOWDOWN ON TRIESTE ISSUE

sia withdrew her strongly worded demand that Yugoslavia get the port, or the western powers had an unexpected change of heart.

V. M. Molotov sought to drive a bargain by surrendering Soviet claims on Tripolitania and cutting reparations demands, hoping to Trieste in return. James F. Byrnes and Bevin refused to yield.

Molotov dropped a strong hint to that effect late Saturday, stating that Russia had made substantial concessions and he felt it was time for the others to do likewise. The only response he got was an embarrassed silence from the other negotiators.

Even if the Trieste talks should break down, Byrnes and Bevin intended to seek Molotov's agreement to hold an early 21-nation peace conference. Prospects were not bright, however, because Molotov had persisted in requiring big four agreement on all essential issues before summoning the full dress meeting.

The technique for this week's meeting was believed similar to that late last week, a survey of the entire field seeking each time to narrow the points of difference between Russia and the western powers. Every application of this method thus far has eventually bumped up against Trieste.

Direct Anglo-French talks on Germany have been continuing on the sidelines, preparatory to discussion in the big four meeting after the Italian and Balkan issues were finished.

THREE PERSONS INJURED IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENT

Three persons were recovering Monday from minor injuries received in an automobile accident in U. S. Route 23 in Pickaway county near the Franklin county line early Sunday.

Jack Downing, Route 2, Williamsport, Miss Lena Thompson and Miss Mary Eyerman, both of Columbus, were released after being given emergency treatment at Berger hospital. Downing suffered scalp lacerations, Miss Thompson lacerations on the arm and body abrasions, and Miss Eyerman sustained a left jaw contusion and lacerations on both legs. The accident was investigated by the State Highway Patrol.

ficials humbly listened to their demands.

Communist leader Sanzo Nozaka told the demonstrators that the problems of eating and the delay in organizing a new cabinet were the root of all present-day Japanese problems. He said the one method for solution was to see the emperor.

Today's Communist statement also demanded that imperial household assets be used to pay for food imports.

Hirohito also was asked to "clarify his responsibility as Japan's foremost war criminal" and his responsibility for the confused political situation which the Communists claimed was brought about by his appointment of Kijuro Shidehara as premier.

They said they will stage demonstrations in the future not only in front of the premier's official residence but also within the imperial palace grounds.

SCC SCHEDULE CUT IN HALF BY WET GROUNDS

Ashville At Milledgeville
Called Off; Chillicothe, Sabina Are Winners

Rain cut the South Central Ohio baseball league schedule in half Sunday.

Postponed because of wet grounds were the Ashville-Milledgeville and Washington C. H.-Jeffersonville contests.

In games played Chillicothe Mead Papermakers trounced Jamestown 14-2 and Sabina won over Greenfield 7-3.

Chillicothe tightened its hold on first by slugging out 16 hits behind seven-hit pitching of two pitchers. The Papermakers were paced by Davey, who had four for five. Barnett and Duffy each hit doubles as all but one starter hit safely.

Bartlett started on the mound and allowed two hits and no runs in five innings. Brown took over in the sixth allowing two runs that inning and a total of five hits in the last four frames. Jamestown led three pitchers.

At Greenfield the game was delayed an hour because of the condition of the diamond. Sabina scored a first inning run, two in the fourth, one in the eighth and three in the ninth. Greenfield had two in the fifth and one in the ninth. Sabina counted 12 hits, including Pitcher Luttrell's home run, Butterfield's triple, and two base hits by Andrews and Zurfue. Pitcher Newland, West and Cooper had doubles for Greenfield. Luttrell gave Greenfield only five hits and struck out 7.

COLONELS LEAD AA; RED BIRDS DEEP IN CELLAR

By United Press
Louisville was in first place in the American Association today by a full game while Kansas City skyrocketed from seventh to fifth and Toledo grabbed the third spot in games yesterday.

Kansas City's double defeat of Columbus 8-7 and 9-0, buried the Red Birds deeper in the cellar and Toledo's pair of victories over Milwaukee, 8-3 and 7-6, dropped the Brewers to 7th place. In other double headers, Louisville split with St. Paul, losing 2-1 and winning 5-2; Indianapolis divided with Minneapolis, blasting the Millers 12-4 and then succumbing 8-5 in the second game.

A base on balls and singles by Harry Craft and Russ Burns, scored the winning run for Kansas City in the first game at Columbus. Ed Lyons shut out the Red Birds in the second contest with five hits while the Blues were making a run for every one of their nine hits. The hapless Red Birds committed six errors.

REDS CLIMB TO THIRD, WINNING TWO FROM CARDS

Feller Strikes Out 12 In 10-Inning Win; Red Sox Hurlers Stop Yanks

NEW YORK, May 13—The rest of the American League still searched for a way to harness the runaway Red Sox today, but there was a brighter outlook in the National where opponents of the Cardinals dared to hope that the pre-season favorites might wind up as "also rans" in the baseball pennant derby.

The Yankees tried to stop the Red Sox by cooling off their red-hot hitters, but it didn't work. Boston won two out of three games in the important series, cashing in on fine pitching and tight fielding to offset a sudden batting deficiency. The Red Sox were held to 14 hits for the three games and only two were for extra bases.

Boston got only three hits Sunday while winning 3-1 from the Yankees who also had three hits. The victory was the 16th in 17 games for Boston and increased its lead to five and a half games over the second place Yankees. Harris won his sixth straight game while Chandler lost his first after five wins.

Meanwhile, there were startling National League developments. The Cards wound up an unsuccessful home stay in which they won only four games and lost six by dropping a double header to the Reds, 4 to 2 and 5 to 1. Their old nemesis, Bucky Walters, beat them in the 10-inning opener while rookie Ewell Blackwell stopped them on three hits in the second game. Cincinnati, which has won nine of its last 12 games, moved into a tie with Boston and Chicago for third place. Eddie Miller got a first game homer and Grady Hatton hit one in the second game for the Reds.

The Dodgers topped the Phils, 13 to 4 and Manager Ben Chapman became so upset that he came out of retirement to pitch the last two innings. He held the Dodgers scoreless, but before he came in the Dodgers had made 12 hits off three other flingers including homers by Augie Galan and Ed Stevens.

The up-and-coming Braves won two at Boston, beating the Giants 6 to 5 in 10 innings and 7-2. Claude Passeau of the Cubs outpitched Ken Heintzelman of the Pirates to win a 3 to 1 duel at Chicago.

The Tigers tightened their hold on third place in the American by winning their seventh straight game, 4 to 1 over the White Sox at Detroit.

Bob Feller struck out 12 batters as the Indians beat the Browns at Cleveland, 4 to 3 in 10 innings. The Browns hit hard and often to win the second game, 9 to 3. Feller had a shutout going into the ninth of the opener, but eased up and the Browns scored three runs,

80 TEAMS ROLL FINAL DAY OF ABC TOURNEY

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 13—The final day of team competition in the American Bowling Congress found a slate of 80 five-man squads going to the alleys today in an eleventh hour effort to top the 3,023 high total of the Llo-Dar-

two on Johnny Lucadello's single with the bases full. Mickey Rocco's homer was the most damaging blow off Brownie pitcher Tex Shirley in the nightcap. He scattered nine hits to win his second game.

The Athletics and Senators split at Philadelphia. The A's took the opener, 6 to 4 as young Dick Fowler won his first game since pitching a no-hitter late last season, and the Senators won the second game 3-1.

SCO SCHEDULE CUT IN HALF BY WET GROUNDS

Ashville At Milledgeville
Called Off; Chillicothe,
Sabina Are Winners

Rain cut the South Central Ohio baseball league schedule in half Sunday.

Postponed because of wet grounds were the Ashville-Milledgeville and Washington C. H.-Jeffersonville contests.

In games played Chillicothe Mead Papermakers trounced Jamestown 14-2 and Sabina won over Greenfield 7-3.

Chillicothe tightened its hold on first by slugging out 16 hits behind seven-hit pitching of two pitchers. The Papermakers were paced by Davey, who had four for five. Barnett and Duffy each hit doubles as all but one starter hit safely.

Bartlett started on the mound and allowed two hits and no runs in five innings. Brown took over in the sixth allowing two runs that inning and a total of five hits in the last four frames. Jamestown led three pitchers.

At Greenfield the game was delayed an hour because of the condition of the diamond. Sabina scored a first inning run, two in the fourth, one in the eighth and three in the ninth. Greenfield had two in the fifth and one in the ninth. Sabina counted 12 hits, including Pitcher Luttrell's home run, Butterfield's triple, and two base hits by Andrews and Zurface. Pitcher Newland, West and Cooper had doubles for Greenfield. Luttrell gave Greenfield only five hits and struck out 7.

COLONELS LEAD AA; RED BIRDS DEEP IN CELLAR

By United Press
Louisville was in first place in the American Association today by a full game while Kansas City skyrocketed from seventh to fifth and Toledo grabbed the third spot in games yesterday.

Kansas City's double defeat of Columbus 8-7 and 9-0, buried the Red Birds deeper in the cellar and Toledo's pair of victories over Milwaukee, 8-3 and 7-6, dropped the Brewers to 7th place. In other double headers, Louisville split with St. Paul, losing 2-1 and winning 5-2; Indianapolis divided with Minneapolis, blasting the Millers 12-4 and then succumbing 8-5 in the second game.

A base on balls and singles by Harry Craft and Russ Burns, scored the winning run for Kansas City in the first game at Columbus. Ed Lyons shut out the Red Birds in the second contest with five hits while the Blues were making a run for every one of their nine hits. The hapless Red Birds committed six errors.

REDS CLIMB TO THIRD, WINNING TWO FROM CARDS

Feller Strikes Out 12 In
10-Inning Win; Red Sox
Hurlers Stop Yanks

NEW YORK, May 13—The rest of the American League still searched for a way to harness the runaway Red Sox today, but there was a brighter outlook in the National where opponents of the Cardinals dared to hope that the pre-season favorites might wind up as "also rans" in the baseball pennant derby.

The Yankees tried to stop the Red Sox by cooling off their red-hot hitters, but it didn't work. Boston won two out of three games in the important series, cashing in on fine pitching and tight fielding to offset a sudden batting deficiency. The Red Sox were held to 14 hits for the three games and only two were for extra bases.

Boston got only three hits Sunday while winning 3-1 from the Yankees who also had three hits.

The victory was the 16th in 17 games for Boston and increased its lead to five and a half games over the second place Yankees. Harris won his sixth straight game while Chandler lost his first after five wins.

Meanwhile, there were startling National League developments. The Cards wound up an unsuccessful home stay in which they won only four games and lost six by dropping a double header to the Reds, 4 to 2 and 5 to 1. Their old nemesis, Bucky Walters, beat them in the 10-inning opener while rookie Ewell Blackwell stopped them on three hits in the second game. Cincinnati, which has won nine of its last 12 games, moved into a tie with Boston and Chicago for third place. Eddie Miller got a first game homer and Grady Hatton hit one in the second game for the Reds.

The Dodgers topped the Phils, 13 to 4 and Manager Ben Chapman became so upset that he came out of retirement to pitch the last two innings. He held the Dodgers scoreless, but before he came in the Dodgers had made 12 hits off three other hurlers including homers by Augie Galan and Ed Stevens.

The up-and-coming Braves won two at Boston, beating the Giants 6 to 5 in 10 innings and 7-2.

Claude Passeau of the Cubs out-pitched Ken Heintzelman of the Pirates to win a 3 to 1 duel at Chicago.

The Tigers tightened their hold on third place in the American by winning their seventh straight game, 4 to 1 over the White Sox at Detroit.

Bob Feller struck out 12 batters as the Indians beat the Browns at Cleveland, 4 to 3 in 10 innings. The Browns hit hard and often to win the second game, 9 to 3. Feller had a shutout going into the ninth of the opener, but eased up and the Browns scored three runs,

80 TEAMS ROLL FINAL DAY OF ABC TOURNEY

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 13—The final day of team competition in the American Bowling Congress found a slate of 80 five-man squads going to the alleys today in an eleventh hour effort to top the 3,023 high total of the Llo-Dar-

two on Johnny Lucadello's single with the bases full. Mickey Rocco's homer was the most damaging blow off Brownie pitcher Tex Shirley in the nightcap. He scattered nine hits to win his second game.

The Athletics and Senators split at Philadelphia. The A's took the opener, 6 to 4 as young Dick Fowler won his first game since pitching a no-hitter late last season, and the Senators won the second game 3-1.

The Tigers tightened their hold on third place in the American by winning their seventh straight game, 4 to 1 over the White Sox at Detroit.

Bob Feller struck out 12 batters as the Indians beat the Browns at Cleveland, 4 to 3 in 10 innings. The Browns hit hard and often to win the second game, 9 to 3. Feller had a shutout going into the ninth of the opener, but eased up and the Browns scored three runs,

Northway Cabs of Columbus, Ohio, did their part in war-essential transportation. Let C. S. Denton, owner and manager, tell about New Sohio's in his own words: "The cabs in which we used New Sohio's were badly slugged and not in good shape mechanically. The compression tests taken before and after the use of New Sohio's speak for themselves. The cabs are now running smoothly with very good acceleration and we notice considerable increase in gasoline mileage. They are also starting much easier." ## Mother-Daughter Banquet Is Held In Community House

When the annual Mother and Daughter banquet was held at the United Brethren community house Friday evening an elaborate pageant "The Kingdom Come In Homes Around the World" was presented.

The pageant was centered around a worship center of white and on top of the pedestal was a lighted globe of the world. The participants of the pageant were attired in the costumes of the countries they represented.

Mrs. Carl L. Wilson represented China, Miss Marjorie Francis, Africa, Miss Lucille Kirkwood, India, Mrs. Carlos Brown, Holland, and Miss Leah Jean Mason, America.

Each of the cast gave a reading of the country she represented and told of the characteristics of the homes in that country.

Mrs. Clarence Radcliffe, president of the Women's Missionary Association, was in charge of the program. The Women's Missionary Guild co-operated in preparations for the affair.

Miss Lucille Kirkwood led the group in singing and Miss Betty Jane May offered a violin solo. Mrs. Frank Hawkins offered an opening thought and the Rev. C. L. Wilson offered a prayer. Mrs. Radcliffe gave an explanation of the program theme.

Following the pageant the entire group joined hands in a friendship circle around the lighted globe and joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds". Mrs. Radcliffe gave the closing prayer.

Mrs. C. O. Kerns and members of the Ladies Aid served the banquet to the guests who were seated at tables decorated in purple and white. The white cloths were outlined with purple crepe paper streamers. Orchid candles and orchid and white iris were placed on the table as well as the novel purple and white place cards which contained not only the program of the evening but were made in the shape of a globe of the world to carry out the theme of the evening.

John Noggle Is Married In California Church

Miss Neva Negranti
Is Bride Of Ex-Soldier

At the historic Old Mission church in San Luis Obispo in an impressive double ring ceremony Miss Neva Mae Negranti daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Negranti Jr., pioneer residents of San Luis Obispo county, became the bride of John Luther Noggle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Noggle East Main street. The nuptial rites were performed May fifth by the Reverend Father William Lane.

The bride, who came down the aisle on the arm of her father, was beautifully attired in a white satin gown with a finger tip length veil. Her dress was fashioned with a lace yoke edged with ruffle, a fitted bodice, buttoned back, and ruffle which hung down above her full skirt. Her long sleeves were pointed at the fingertips. Her white silk veil with halo effect with a cluster of orange blossoms at the top. She carried a bouquet of gardenias centered with an orchid. For something new she wore a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. For something borrowed she wore a pair of small pearl earrings, borrowed from a friend, Mrs. William Zanechuck. For something blue she wore a blue garter. She carried a 35-year-old hand drawn worked handkerchief for something old.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Lloyd Trombly of Sacramento, was maid-of-honor. Her gown was of pale pink marquisette, fashioned with fitted bodice and full, double skirt. She wore a pale pink shoulder-length veil with matching pink flowers and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Lloyd Trombly, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. The bride's mother wore a black suit with an aqua blue blouse and a gardenia corsage.

As a special honor to the couple the wedding bells were rung by Gregorio Silverio, bell ringer at the Old Mission Church.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Olive McElvain, soloist, sang Schubert's "Ave Maria." She was accompanied at the organ by William Tognazzini, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Ushers for the occasion were the bride's brother, James Negranti Jr., and the groom's uncle, D. D. Noggle of Salinas.

Bows of white satin ribbon designated the family pews in the church.

Following the church ceremony, which was attended by 150 friends and relatives a reception was held in the Anderson hotel banquet room. From a beautifully decorated table a three-tier wedding cake, trimmed with white rose buds and silver leaves topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom beneath a bell, was cut by the bride couple and served by the groom's aunt, Mrs. D. D. Noggle, of Salinas, who was assisted by the bride's aunt, Miss Cora Negranti of San Luis Obispo. Those presiding at the punch bowl were Miss Doris Negranti, sister of the bride, and Mrs. William Zanechuck, a close friend. Background music was furnished by William Tognazzini at the piano.

After the reception the couple departed for a brief honeymoon to Carmel and San Francisco, the bride wearing a pale aqua blue suit with pink and black accessories.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Noggle of Salinas, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Trombly of Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Giacomazzi, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Barnes, aunt and uncle of the groom, and Miss Jean Lynd McGowan of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heuer of Watsonville, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Chapelle, Mrs. C. H. Abbott and Kirk Abbott, all of Salinas.

The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Noggle, and sisters, Miss Isabel Noggle and Mrs. Hubert Puckett, of Circleville, O., were unable to attend the nuptial rites.

Mrs. Noggle was graduated from San Luis Obispo Senior high school and San Luis Obispo Junior college. For the past four and one-half years she has been employed as a teller in the Security First National bank of Los Angeles, at San Luis Obispo and is

UMPIRE'S JAW BROKEN WHEN HIT BY FOUL TIP

PHILADELPHIA, May 13—Umpire Art Passarella of the American League, was expected to be out of action at least a month, physicians said today, because of a dislocated jaw which he suffered yesterday when hit by a foul tip.

Passarella, the plate umpire in the first game of a double header between the Athletics and the Washington Senators, was struck in the first inning by the foul ball off the bat of Washington first baseman Mickey Vernon. The ball hit his mask directly in front of his chin and the impact caused the injury.

FLOUR MILLS OF GREATER INTEREST THAN GLAMOR GALS TO BRITAIN'S MOVIE MOGUL

By WILLIAM RUTLEDGE III

Central Press Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Among the many changes the war wrought within the film business, none has matched the amazing emergence of J. Arthur Rank of London as one of the most influential figures in movie-making.

Hollywood has not quite figured him out since his baffling visit last year; but the industry is learning day by day that he is a factor that must be reckoned with at every turn of the road.

Movie and the stage were hobbies of Rank in England and they still are little more than that with him. Now he is swinging his power and influence around and the world is finding that it is making a difference. The movie business will never again be entirely the same proposition.

When Rank made appointments for his visit last year, Hollywood generally figured that the suspended movie business of England was trying to get back on its feet again and that Rank would be angling for deals towards that end.

Rank came to the flint town and those who had checked up on him knew that he was one of the world's wealthiest men, probably a billionaire if he took the trouble to total all his interests and holdings.

While in Hollywood he was the guest at the home of Walter Wanger and his wife, Joan Bennett. The film moguls expected to stage lavish parties for him, and generally regale him in the usual style. But Rank did not set foot in a single night club, had no interest in the pretty girls of the screen and indulged in no hilarities.

Come to find out he was a teetotaler and the best war-time liquor in town was an abomination to him. He was not the least bit interested in the charms or curves of any of the ladies of the screen.

However, he did regret that his business in Hollywood made it impossible for him to teach his Sunday school class in the Methodist church in London of which he is a member.

Rank had not come to work out deals with American studios on their terms; he had a few streamlined plans of his own—and millions of dollars to speak up for his plans. The usual producer line of talk about high-budget pictures pained him. He said he wanted good films and that it was not a matter of how many million dollars went into the production cost sheets.

Exchange Plan

Rank made arrangements for distribution with Hollywood studios. It was largely an exchange proposition, whereby his theatrical interests throughout the British empire swapped productions with those from these production establishments here.

Rank explained that he had no intention of conquering Hollywood; he just wanted to compete in America and abroad. He said that he did not entertain any aspiration to change or reform Hollywood; that he was anxious to learn as much as he could from the cinema masters and that there was much talent that he hoped he could lend-lease or win to his band.

Wire Cutting

MYSTIFIES AFL LEADERS, POLICE

ASHVILLE, N. C., May 13—Southern AFL leaders, still mystified by the "sabotage" cutting of radio wires that stilled a nation-wide broadcast by President William F. Green, returned home today to open their campaign for 1,000,000 new southern members.

American Federation of Labor's southern biennial conference adjourned late yesterday and the estimated 2,000 delegates scattered to begin their recruiting work in 12 states in competition with CIO's parallel drive.

They heard speaker after speaker charge that the rival CIO campaign was "communist-directed," and that the AFL offered southern labor the only alternative to what they called the CIO's "carpet-bagger invasion" of the south.

Meanwhile, Asheville police checked all angles of the mysterious wire-slashing incident, but police chief Charles Dermid said there were no new developments. No arrests were made.

Green's speech was scheduled for broadcast over NBC at 6:45 p. m. (EST) Saturday night. Announcer John Hurley, of Washington, had almost completed his introduction when the circuits were cut. Neither Green nor his audience were aware of what happened, but radio listeners over the country heard the program suddenly stop.

Three wires carrying the program were cut cleanly—apparently with a sharp-bladed instrument—in the basement of the Asheville city auditorium, where Green spoke.

PHILADELPHIA, May 13—Umpire Art Passarella of the American League, was expected to be out of action at least a month, physicians said today, because of a dislocated jaw which he suffered yesterday when hit by a foul tip.

Passarella, the plate umpire in the first game of a double header between the Athletics and the Washington Senators, was struck in the first inning by the foul ball off the bat of Washington first baseman Mickey Vernon. The ball hit his mask directly in front of his chin and the impact caused the injury.

FLOUR MILLS OF GREATER INTEREST THAN GLAMOR GALS TO BRITAIN'S MOVIE MOGUL

By WILLIAM RUTLEDGE III

Central Press Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Among the many changes the war wrought within the film business, none has matched the amazing emergence of J. Arthur Rank of London as one of the most influential figures in movie-making.

Hollywood has not quite figured him out since his baffling visit last year; but the industry is learning day by day that he is a factor that must be reckoned with at every turn of the road.

Movie and the stage were hobbies of Rank in England and they still are little more than that with him. Now he is swinging his power and influence around and the world is finding that it is making a difference. The movie business will never again be entirely the same proposition.

When Rank made appointments for his visit last year, Hollywood generally figured that the suspended movie business of England was trying to get back on its feet again and that Rank would be angling for deals towards that end.

Rank came to the film town and those who had checked up on him knew that he was one of the world's wealthiest men, probably a billionaire if he took the trouble to total all his interests and holdings.

While in Hollywood he was the guest at the home of Walter Wanger and his wife, Joan Bennett. The film moguls expected to stage lavish parties for him and generally regale him in the usual style. But Rank did not set foot in a single night club, had no interest in the pretty girls of the screen and indulged in no hilarities.

Come to find out he was a teetotaler and the best war-time liquor in town was an abomination to him. He was not the least bit interested in the charms or curves of any of the ladies of the screen. However, he did regret that his business in Hollywood made it impossible for him to teach his Sunday school class in the Methodist church in London of which he is a member.

Rank had not come to work out deals with American studios on their terms; he had a few streamlined plans of his own—and millions of dollars to speak up for his plans. The usual producer line of talk about high-budget pictures pained him. He said he wanted good films and that it was not a matter of how many million dollars went into the production cost sheets.

Exchange Plan

Rank made arrangements for distribution with Hollywood studios. It was largely an exchange proposition, whereby his theatrical interests throughout the British empire swapped productions with those from these production establishments here.

Rank explained that he had no intention of conquering Hollywood; he just wanted to compete in America and abroad. He said that he did not entertain any aspiration to change or reform Hollywood; that he was anxious to learn as much as he could from the cinema masters and that there was much talent that he hoped he could lend-lease or win to his banner with some inducement.

"Caesar and Cleopatra," with Vivien Leigh of "Gone With the Wind" fame in the role of the enchantress of the Nile, is waiting in New York for United States release this year. "Colonel Blimp" has been released in this country, as has Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit."

Other dramas on the releasing schedules of the Rank organization include Kim Hunter in "A Matter of Life and Death," Laurence Olivier in "Henry V." Roger Livesey (who was Colonel Blimp) in "I Know Where I'm Going," Phyllis Calvert and Jean Kent in "Madonna of the Seven Moons," Margaret Lockwood in "Millions Like Us," and "This Happy Breed."

Hollywood authorities who have seen prints of these films predict that there are several which may become major hits with American theater-goers.

Regardless, Rank's business domain includes control over so many movie houses throughout the British commonwealth of nations that—well, these movies cannot lose money. The Rank controls over the London stage are so effective that—well, he can control a lot of talent and drama in that sphere, too.

Rank's name will, in all probability, never appear among any of the countless screen credits; but nevertheless he is there, probably in his London office, exerting his influence—and certainly a most wholesome influence.

If you asked for a report from Dun and Bradstreet's on Rank, you would learn the facts of his colossal business empire. The flour and milling industry is the keystone of his corporate structure; he is a director of 14 firms, among the world's largest, and one of which is valued at $30,000,000.

While in America he spent more time stopping in to see flour mills and grain elevators than he did over sound stages.

A sack of wheat could hold his attention for hours, but a flimflam glamor gal did not rate a minute.

'Undressed' Officers May Not Testify Against Traffic Violators

Constables and other officers of the law must wear their uniforms in order to make lawful arrests for traffic violations it was declared Monday by Colonel George Mingle, superintendent of the State Highway Patrol.

The order officially prohibits any form of "speed traps" or "sneak arrests" in Pickaway county.

Colonel Mingle warned all "undressed" constables and other law-enforcement officers that they must get into uniform and also must have distinguishing color or markings placed on their cars.

He pointed out that peace officers NOT in uniform cannot make arrests and that their testimony is NOT valid at a trial for such an arrest. It also is unlawful to arrest a person if the officer's car is not marked.

Under section 12616, general code of Ohio, the superintendent of the State Highway Patrol is authorized to designate "a distinctive uniform and a distinctive color or marking of the car in the case of all peace officers, except sheriffs and municipal police, who may designate their own."

Col. Mingle's uniform specifications follow:

Blouse — forestry green with black collar, black epaulets and black lapel; buttons brass finish.

Breeches—optional between forestry green slacks or breeches or both with black 1½-inch stripe on outside seam from waist to cuff.

Shirt—forestry green with black epaulets and black buttons.

Cap—eight-point officers' model, forestry green, open or closed black band, black visor 2 inches in length at center with black leather cap strap.

Sleeves of shirt and blouse to bear insignia; badge and cap ornament optional; Sam Brown belt to be black; black puttees or black leather boots may be worn with breeches.

Col. Mingle also authorized all peace officers' cars to display an insignia on each side and on the rear.

GAMBLING BOSS BELIEVED HELD BY CAPONE MOB

CHICAGO, May 13 — Underworld sources believed today that Edward P. Jones, 48, multi-millionaire negro gambling overlord, would be held by kidnapers until he surrenders control of Chicago's fabulous policy racket, or killed if he does not.

Police believed Jones may have been kidnaped by former henchmen of Scarface Al Capone, who have been fighting for control of the city's lucrative gambling business. Fearing the worst, they searched alleys and catch basins of the south side negro districts.

Jones, who rose from dining car waiter to millionaire and lived in a Michigan avenue mansion, was kidnaped late Saturday night by four masked men who stopped pursuing police with blasts from sub-machine guns.

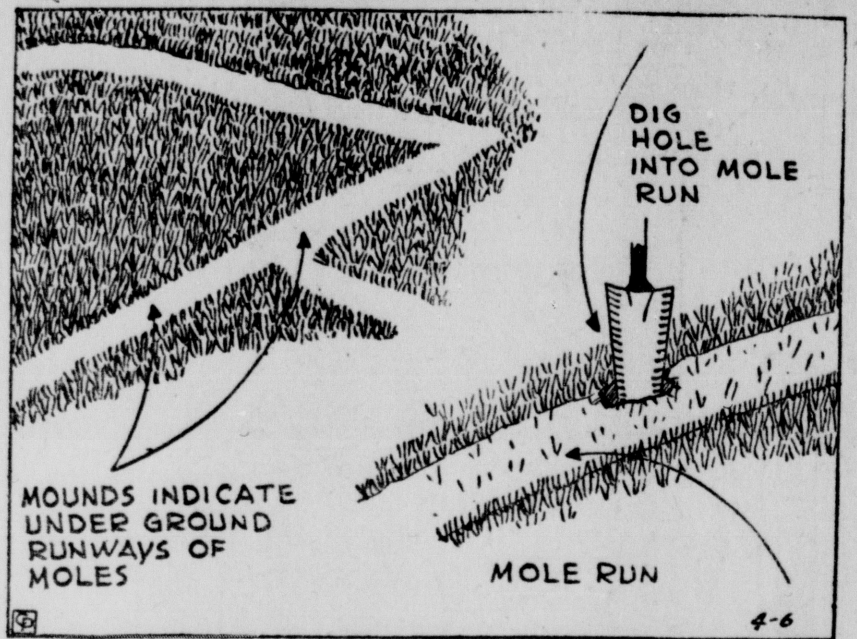

Investigators did not overlook the possibility that Jones was kidnaped for ransom, possibly by white men who served with him in federal prison at Terre Haute, Ind., where he did a 28-month stretch for income tax evasion.

The kidnaping followed a series of strong-arm occurrences coincident with attempts by Capone mobsters to expand their control of gambling houses and handbooks.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Moles, Underground Enemies of Lawns

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

TO THE EXTENT that they destroy harmful insects, moles are beneficial to the farmer, but they are underground enemies of well-kept lawns.

In digging their underground hunting paths, moles do considerable damage by heaving up the soil, which causes the grass to dry out quickly.

When a mole is living in a lawn, it cannot conceal evidence of its presence. Ridges or conspicuous mounds plainly indicate the runways, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

There are several ways to kill or drive moles away. The most modern way to kill moles is by the use of poison gas.

The procedure is as follows:

Dig holes into the mole run, four to six feet apart, as illustrated. Place a teaspoonful of carbon bisulphide or calcium cyanide in these holes, being careful to close the openings without tamping them down. As both these substances are poisonous and the first mentioned inflammable, care must be used in handling.

Placing castor-beans in the runs will also poison either moles or mice which eat them.

There are several types of effective mole traps on the market which can be useful to catch them.

After one is certain that moles have been killed, iron out the disfiguring ridges in the lawn by use of a heavy lawn roller.

BIGGEST CROWD EVER EXPECTED FOR AIR RACES

CLEVELAND, May 13—National air race officials predicted today that the largest sporting crowd in American history—possibly half a million people—will be on hand next fall at Cleveland airport for the first renewal of the famous air races, since a wartime blackout was imposed in 1940.

Ben T. Franklin, managing director of the races, estimated a "turnaway" crowd, upwards of 400,000, would witness the first races ever held between quiet, lightning-fast jet propelled planes and conventional reciprocating gasoline engine ships.

He said attendance at the first post-war four-day meet (August 30-31 and Sept. 1-2) "easily will double the 200,000 figure set at the 1939 races, and our only problem is finding enough room for the terrific crowds we expect from the advance inquiries."

SOLDIERS BREAK UP RIOT DURING HAITIAN VOTING

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, May 13—Soldiers broke up an excited crowd with tear gas in the final hours of the Haitian national election last night, preventing a political scuffle from becoming a riot.

Truckloads of soldiers rushed to the center of Port Au Prince in answer to an urgent summons when followers of one candidate tried to prevent opposition supporters from entering the polls.

Haiti was electing 58 members of a new national assembly, who will re-draft the country's constitution and choose a new president to succeed Eliche Lescot, who fled to Canada last January after being overthrown by the army.
